

YOUTH POLICY SUMMIT

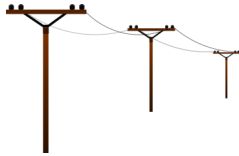

INNOVATION. LEADERSHIP. SOLUTIONS.

Through mediation and collaboration, Youth Policy Summit trains tomorrow's leaders to examine and value diverse perspectives, make sustainable decisions and find lasting solutions to our nation's toughest environmental, energy and public health issues.

Open to motivated 11th and 12th graders from across the U.S. • Apply today at www.youthpolicysummit.org

Energy Infrastructure* At Keystone Science School

Our Nation's energy portfolio is changing- what should it look like, and how can we sustainably incorporate new technologies?

Dates: June 9-16

Location: Keystone, CO

Price: $600

open to students attending NCSSSMST member schools ONLY*

Urban Sustainability At University of Colorado, Denver

Cities in the U.S. are growing rapidly. How do we balance economic growth, environmental health and social equity?

Dates: June 24-30

Location: Denver, CO

Price: $850

Urban Sustainability At Manhattan College

How do we balance the needs of industry, government and advocacy groups and promote sustainable livelihoods?

Dates: July 8-14

Location: Bronx, NY

Price: $950

Southeast Water Resources At Auburn University

The "water wars" are far from over. How can we sustainably manage water usage in the Southeast?

Dates: July 15-21

Location: Auburn, AL

Price: $750

Great Lakes Water Resources At Aquinas College

The Great Lakes are an essential source of our nation's supply of fresh water. How do we balance the multiple demands on this resource?

Dates: July 22-28

Location: Grand Rapids, MI

Price: $800

Energy Innovation At California State University, Dominguez Hills

The demand for cost-effective, sustainable energy sources is growing. What should the future of energy look like in the U.S.?

Dates: August 5-11

Location: Carson, CA

Price: $950

www.youthpolicysummit.org

ypsinfo@keystone.org

202.452.0139 (Washington, DC office) / 970.513.5824 (Keystone, CO office)